WE NEED MAN WHO STANDS FOR RIGHT

SAYS DR. C. C. JAMES IN SERMON LAST NIGHT

TOLD STORY OF DANIEL

Several Outstanding Characteristics Of Famous Biblical Characters Were Pictured—Value of Prayer

"The story of Daniel in the lions' den shows us the worthwhileness of a man who believes that he is right and has the courage of his convictions," said Dr. C. C. James at the Union services last night.

"Daniel had been trained in prayer," Dr. James continued and he stood against all things in which he did not believe. The man who is needed today in our own country is the man who has the courage of his own convictions and is willing to stand for the things that are right. This courage is required today just as much as it was in the days of Daniel. It does not die with the passage of time but lives always."

The song service last night was in charge of F. G. Tebow with Miss Lillian James at the piano. Mrs. F. G. Tebow sang a solo, and the Rev. B. F. Cline was in charge of the Scripture reading service.

Dr. James' sermon last night was based on the old story of Daniel in the lions' den and several outstanding characteristics of Daniel were vividly pictured by the Methodist minister last night.

"But Daniel has not been the only man that has been severely tested," Dr. James continued, "as Martin Luther stood practically alone at the Diet of Worms. He declared his great faith in God and he was tested just as much as Daniel was. The lure of doing right is beconing men today just as much as it was in the time of Daniel.

Dr. James pointed out that the lesson of Daniel in the lions' den showed the value of real piety. The piety of the old Biblical character stood the test when the time came and he was ready to worship his God in spite of the edict of the King of the Medes and Persians. Daniel prayed three times a day.

"I do not believe there is much virtue in the type of piety that prays only occasionally," Dr. James declared, "for there must be a piety that holds us down to the true things of life. Religion was given to us to live naturally. What would Daniel's friends have thought if, when the king's edict had been issued, he had ceased to pray?"

Daniel prayed three times a day, the speaker reminded his hearers, and this should encourage a regular habit of prayer life. The matter of prayer is not a thing to do when we can, but a thing we need to do, he added.

"What if you ate and slept only when you felt like it?" Dr. James asked. "Prayer is just as necessary as food and sleep.

"The window of prayer is where God opens our lives to greater things. While praying, Daniel saw the city and country with all their splendor and grandeur. Men's greatest visions of life have come as a result of prayer."

The speaker concluded his sermon by vividly retelling an extract from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" by Ian MacLaren. It was the story of an old Scottish doctor who was about to take the final sleep. The doctor had lived a life of service among his people, had answered sick calls at all hours of the day or night, and never sent out a bill for his services. He was loved by all his patients and on his death bed, while in an unconscious state, told little incidents of his life—his boyhood, his early manhood and finally his professional life. He finally recited the Twenty-third Psalm and his life went out.

Wave of Outlawry is Sweeping Over Detroit

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20—The wave of outlawry which swept over Detroit Sunday, resulting in the death of one policeman and several other persons continued today when a collector for the General Ice Delivery Co. was held up and robbed of $5000.

Five men are in custody who are suspected of a raid upon the elite Allendale Inn when two men and women were shot, and seventy-five patrons backed against the wall and robbed of cash and jewels valued at $25,000. A posse of men is searching the country nearby for clews which will lead to the arrest of the guilty parties.

The bandits announced their appearance on the dance floor of the inn by firing revolvers into the ceiling, and their weapons continued to bark at every display of fight. Police believe that this gang was responsible for the death of Oscar Rinehart when he received fatal bullet wounds after attempting to halt a speeding automobile.

Two youths, both 16 years old, were shot, one perhaps fatally, when they engaged in a pitched battle with the police after holding up a motor car on a road leading to the city.

Fourteen other hold-ups were reported to the police.

Misses Evelyn and Laura Margaret Raines returned last night from Bigelow where they had been guests of Miss Dorothy Bridgmon.

MAY DRAFT SEVERE ANTI-MOB MEASURE

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE REPORTED FAVORABLE TO PROPOSED BILL

TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY

New Bill Would Punish County and State Officials Who Neglect Duty —To Assess Fines

Washington, Aug. 20—The recurring outbreaks of mob violences caused officials of the Coolidge administration to consider the formation of a bill making these outrages a crime against the Federal government. President Coolidge is reported to be deeply concerned over the recent outbreaks. He is reported to be considering a new anti-mob bill which would apply not only to lynching mobs but to all organizations of masked men who take the law into their own hands. The proposed bill is said to be even more drastic than the Dyer anti-lynching bill which was "talked to death by the last Congress.

The Coolidge administration is expected to support this measure, as much as the executive was elected on a platform which was pledged to law observance.

The Dyer bill, in its original form, applied only to lynching mobs. It provides fines up to $10,000 upon counties in which lynchings occur and a punishment for county and state officials who are responsible for the outbreaks.

Any act of mob violence would be made a Federal crime. Whippings, deportations, as well as tar and feather parties ,would be included in the new bill and various penalties fixed for those guilty of the crimes.

Although, the Dyer bill was bitterly fought in the last Congress, Republican leaders are hoping for its enactment next December. The "Solid South" is lined up against the bill for racial reasons.

New issues are now being presented however, and the legislation should be passed without strong opposition. It has been endorsed by the American Bar Association and similar measures have already been passed in North Carolina, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

MOB PROBES ARE NOW UNDERWAY

OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS GOVERNORS TRY TO BREAK UP BANDS

REPORTED QUIET TODRY

Believed That Texas Rangers Will Break Up Lawless Groups There —Walton Orders Probes

Investigations into the mob disorders in three Southern states were going ahead today.

The Coolidge administration is determined to stop these outbreaks of disorder and the man who "put his foot down" on the Boston police strike, a few years ago, is said to favor making lynchings, tar and feather crimes and other mob violences, crimes against Federal government.

An anti-mob bill, even more drastic than the one "talked to death" during the last Congress, is being considered by President Coolidge and his advisers.

There is mild excitement at Macon today. Adjutant-General Cox spent yesterday at Macon investigating recent disturbances there. The Southwest, in which two states are conducting investigations, is reported quiet today. Port Arthur and Amarillo were also reported quiet. Governor Walton of Oklahoma and acting Gov. W. L. Davidson of Texas are taking a hand in the breaking up of lawlessness in these two states during the last several weeks.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 20—No further flogging parties had been reported to the Adjutant-General's office here today. It is believed that the presence of a number of Texas Rangers will quiet those inclined to take the law into their own hands.

Lee Whitaker, sheriff, arrested in connection with the flogging of E. T. McDonald at Amarillo is at liberty on bond and demands an immediate trial.

The condition of Lonnie Davis, whipped with a wet rope at Iowa Park, continues critical.

Two men arrested following the killing of B. A. Harris, a policeman, are being held without bond.

Port Arthur, Tex., Aug. 20—No new developments in connection with the flogging of suspects of the killing of B. A. Harris, policeman, occurred here over the week-end. Officers have been successful in breaking up gatherings which might have led to violence.

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 20—A large number of alleged floggings in this County during the last few months were under investigation by Adjutant-General Markham today. These investigations were ordered by Gov. J. C. Walton. No development occurred over the week-end. Things were quiet today.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 20—With the presence and aid of the National Guard as well as county and city officers, the investigation of floggings and other outbreaks of violence in Oklahoma, continued today.

Military occupation of Tulsa continues, and Governor Walton was more determined than ever today to "clean up" the County in the matter of mob terrorism.

Adjutant-General Markham continues his policy of stopping up the information "leaks" in the progress made of the investigations.

Aldrich Blake, councellor to Governor Walton, has declared that the Governor meant just wnat he said in his declaration to "clean up" lawlessless in the state.

Butler Tells Britain What Education Is

American Educator Outlines Essential Qualities For "An Educated Man"

New York, Aug. 20—Are you an educated person? If not quite sure try the Butler test ;all London's doing it.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who has just returned from a visit to the British metropolis, gave England the following outline of what he regards as the characteristics of an educated person:

Correctness and precision in the use of the mother tongue.

Refined and gentle manner.

Sound standard of appreciation of beauty and worth, and a character formed on these standards.

The practice and habit of reflection.

Efficiency, or the power to do things.

If you are tried and found wanting in these characteristics then you aren't educated, no matter how much knowledge you may have, according to statements accredited to Dr. Butler while he was in England.

Dr. Butler frankly confessed on behalf of his American colleagues that there is some doubt as to whether the United States has been getting real education from its hundreds of colleges and universities.

"America is beginning to ask," said Dr. Butler, "whether she is getting the value hoped for from the tremendous sums she spends on education. Do the people who pass through school and college approach the questions of every-day life in the spirit or method of science?"

Dr. Butler's statements appear to have arroused some interest in English bosoms, swelling them with national pride. Now the United States is threatened with a practical demonstration of the results of education as England believes it should be demonstrated. As a result of the Butler speech there is now a movement afoot to send a delegation of one hundred English boys and girls to the United States to show the results of the English system of education, say reports from London.

Whether or not you are in favor of one piece bathing suits there is one thing you will have to give them credit for and that is they accept a lot of responsibility, a man who recently returned from the bathing beaches remarked to us.

After a lot of people get their own way they do not know what to do with it.

We heard a man described the other day as the kind of a fellow who would wait after a lecture to meet the speaker.

We asked a friend if he had his vacation planned and he said that he was having trouble with his plans as they cover three weeks and the boss only allows him one.

The courthouse cynic says he does not see how we can hope to settle some of the big questions of the day when we have never determined whether the chicken or the egg came first.

A lot of people are like a dog chasing its own tail. They have a hard time making both ends meet.

Our idea of the irony of fate is contained in a recent item telling about a New York traffic cop stationed at a busy corner when he spent his vacation at an Ohio town of 1,200 souls and got run over by a horse and buggy while crossing the street.

What specific points concerning the next hole, should be noted and considered before driving off a tee?

If it is a two shot hole (par four) play for an easy second shot. Keep away from obstacles. Always think of the next shot that must be made. If there are woods on the left near the line to the next hole, but plenty of fairway to the right, drive to the right well out into the fairway. There is no use flirting with obstacles when it isn't necessary.

Don't give in to easy hazards. Take no unnecessary risks but when there are obstacles that must be crossed, tackle them confidently.

Missouri's Purebred Hogs

To answer the requests and to settle arguments, the Missouri State Board of Agriculture quotes the following statistics from the last Federal Census, setting for the number to Uncle Sam from Missouri, the breeds being listed in alphabetical order:

1,182 Berkshires on 237 farms; 8,306 Chester Whites on 1,448 farms; 47,986 Duroc Jerseys on 7,213 farms; 5,133 Hampshires on 449 farms; 74,139 Poland Chinas on 12,070 farms; 8,696 Spotted Poland Chinas on 1,159 farms; 52 Tamworths on 16 farms; all other purebreds, not specified on reports, 3,317 hogs on 331 farms.

The grand total number of hogs, (including both purebred, grade and scrub) in 1920 was 3,888,677. The purebreds were 3.8, per cent of all the hogs in the State.

On January 1, 1923, the total number of hogs (including both grade and purebred) in Missouri was 4,306,000 at an average meat price of $9.80 per head for all ages worth $42,198,800.00.

Why We Now Have Fast-Time Farming

IT WAS once thought that it would be impossible to do farm work thoroughly if the tools traveled over the land any faster than a good team of horses could walk. However, the fast-running Fordson, coupled with Standard Fordson Equipment, does the field work much more thoroughly at a higher rate of speed.

For seeding in faster time the AMSCO DRILL, made especially for the Fordson, is recommended. It is made exceptionally strong and durable. There are no light castings and the frame work is made of strong angle steel with an I-beam in the center.

The feed mechanism is so positive that there is no danger of inaccurate dropping, even when the seed boxes are nearly empty.

The discs are raised by a power lift which is so prompt in its action that much narrower headlands are required. This is a big advantage in saving time on large or small fields.

HOUSES MOVED OVER RIVER MOUNTED ON BARGES

In making room for a new state capitol, 12 houses were moved across the Kanawha River at Charleston, West Virginia. Faced with the alternative of wrecking their homes and rebuilding somewhere else, or of transporting them to sites on the opposite side of the river, the owners chose the latter. Lashed securely to heavy timber frames, 40 feet high, to avoid the necessity of lifting them up an embankment, the dwellings, some of which were kept, modern structures, were safely carried on great barges and finally set down on their new locations

Sow Hawaiian Fig Grove From Airplanes

Sowing seeds is one of the latest services that United States army fliers have been asked to perform. When the Department of Agriculture recently wished to plant a number of barren areas in Hawaii with fig trees, it was found the project would require months of hard work in places that were almost inaccessible. Two planes with four airmen were assigned the task and planted the grounds in less than three hours.

Find Rare U. S. Stamp in Italy

One of the rarest of early United States stamps recently was discovered in Italy where it has been hidden for more than 75 years. It is valued at $7,500. Made in Baltimore in 1845, when James M. Buchanan was postmaster, it preceded government issues of 5 and 10-cent stamps. So far as known, there are only six specimens of this issue in existence, and at a Paris sale last year one of these stamps was bought for $6,600 by an American. The stamp found in Italy is said to be distinguished from all other known copies because it shows all of the four outside border lines.

Lubricating Tight Windows

A better method than planing down the guide strips to make tight-fitting windows open and close easily, is to use a suitable lubricant on the guides. An excellent solution for the purpose is a mixture of paraffin and turpentine. Dissolve as much paraffin in turpentine as possible, by shaving the paraffin and allowing the mixture to stand for a few days. Apply the solution liberally to the window guides with a brush, going over them two or three times. The turpentine will evaporate and leave a colorless film of paraffin on the guides. After this treatment the windows will slide freely, regardless of weather conditions.

TO TAKE SURVEY OF EYES IN MO.

EYESIGHT CONDITIONS TO BE INVESTIGATED

COLLEGES TO ASSIST

Questionnaires Sent to Schools, Including Local Teachers College to Help In Investigation

A nationwide survey of eyesight conditions in American education and industry has been undertaken by the Eye Sight Conservation Council of America, it is announced at the national headquarters of the Council in New York.

As to industry, the aim of the survey, according to Guy A. Henry, general director of the Council, is to disclose the relation between defective vision and the efficiency of the nation's millions of workers. As to education, it is purposed to ascertain what steps have been taken by the school to measure the text of poor eyesight and to make effective preventive provision.

The Eye Sight Conservation Council's survey, marking the start of the research program recently adopted by the Board of Directors, has set out to reveal the effect of incorrect vision upon production. It has prepared a questionnaire designed to show increase in individual performance, decrease in accidents, increase in production and decrease in spoilage. The extent of color blindness, the number of blind in one eye, the number totally blinded, hours lost due to eye accidents, equivalent wages for lost time, use of goggles, cost of eye protection service, and total number of eye injuries are other objectives.

This questionnaire has been sent out to the industrial and commercial establishments located in the principal cities of Missouri.

The Council will also endeavor to show "to what extent is any effort being made to place in suitable jobs those workers who have been permanently or temporarily disabled because of eye injuries," and whether any attempt is being made to carry out the National Safety Code for the Protection of the Head and Eyes of Industrial Workers as prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Standards.

In the school survey, the Council is trying to reveal what provisions are being made to eliminate glare from unshaded light sources, windows, polished surfaces, blackboards, etc. One of the most important questions to which the Council seeks to provide satisfactory answer is the relationship of defective vision to retardation.

The Council's school survey extends to practically the entire Union. A questionnaire has been prepared and sent to schools and colleges in numerous Missouri cities, including Columbia, Cape Girardeau, Kirksville, Maryville and Warrensburg.

Previous investigation, it is stated, has revealed alarming conditions of vision which must be remedied if national physical deterioration is to be avoided. The Hoover Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry of the Federated American Engineering Societies found that industrial waste was due in considerable measure to faulty vision. It is estimated that 25,000,000 gainfully employed Americans are thus afflicted.

The Eye Sight Conservation Council is conducting a national movement for the conservation of vision in the schools.

Statistics covering many years show that nine out of every ten persons over twenty-one usually have imperfect sight. At thirty-one the proportion is larger. Above forty it is almost impossible to find a man or woman with perfect sight. It was learned by the examination of several thousand school children in one of our large cities that sixty-six per cent of them had defective vision.

PUTTING IT BEFORE 'EM THRU THE DEMOCRAT-FORUM

Do the people of this trade territory appreciate the Maryville merchants letting them know how, when, and where to do the most economical buying? A merchandizing incident which occurred Thursday nearly conclusively proves that the people really do appreciate the merchants telling them thru The Democrat-Forum of buying opportunities.

Wednesday a successful merchant advertised for Thursday's sale articles which he could afford to let the customers have at remarkable low prices, as he had brought them in large lots and consequently at low marginal cost.

Thursday morning despite the heavy downpour, this merchant's store was crowded with eager, appreciative customers. All the clerks were kept busy all morning filling orders of appreciative customers.

At one time in the morning there were over seventy in the store. This merchant believes that advertising renders a real service to the public.

The double moral: People who read the advertisements in the Democrat-Forum learn how, when, and where to do their buying; the merchants who advertise are sure to reap the rewards of an appreciative public—the more they tell, the more they sell.

The new maintainer has four blades and they are so adjusted that they can grade in or out as desired. It is pulled by a fifteen horsepower tractor and only requires a few men to run it.

All of the state road grading work is finished, according to Mr. James and the work from now on will be light. Today the crew started work on a bad place near the Davis school house. Following this they will devote the most of their time to fixing bad holes in the roads.

NEW RIDING QUALITIES APPEAL TO PROSPECTS

It is evident from the expressions of buyers and prospective buyers that a decided improvement has been made in the riding qualities of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars. No one who calls at the salesrooms to inspect the new line misses an opportunity to sit in the deep and roomy seats and comment on their exceptional comfort. The seats and body are considerably lower than before, not only adding to riding ease, but affording much more leg room.

In addition, the gear shift lever has been moved forward, giving an unusual amount of room; the instruments have been grouped on an attractive panel, and the leverage of the clutch pedal has been altered in such a way that the lightest pressure of the foot answers the purpose. This latter improvements is of especial interest to women, who find it a great convenience in driving in heavy traffic.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Two Cars Collided on Narrow Bridge

What might have been a serious accident occurred about three-fourths of a mile south of Ravenwood when two cars met on a narrow bridge, about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The car driven by Mrs. H. J. Dunshee of Stanberry and containing Mr. and Mrs. Ed Godsey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckert and Mrs. Bird of this city met a car driven by Paul Brown, deputy sheriff of Gentry County. Both cars collided on the bridge. The spokes in a front wheel of the Brown car were broken and the Godsey car had a fender split.

The road to this narrow bridge is a two way track and has the appearance of continuing that way, Mr. Godsey said this morning. The narrow bridge was not discovered until almost on it and at that time both cars were going slow. This was the second accident to have occurred at the bridge within the last week.

Will Fit Harnes at Battery Drill

At the regular drill of Battery C the men will fit the new harness to the horses. The harness arrived at the armory this week. The officers planned to hold the first drill with the guns tonight but because all of the horses have not been shod it will be unable to take place.

The horses will probably be ready for the next drill night and the work will then commence.

Due to a shortage in horses only two guns and two caissons will be used in the drill work. These will be pulled by four horses to each carriage instead of the usual six horses.

All of the horses will be mounted the first two or three trials because they are unaccustomed to the work and they have to be under perfect control. Ordinarily the near horse is the only one which is mounted.

Dresses for School

Some Real Money Saving Values

These are just the dresses girls will want for school wear this Fall. There are crisp ginghams in plaids and checks, some of them trimmed with contrasting colors.

Some of the dresses in this group are in the regulation style, pictured at the extreme left, made of an excellent quality of jeans. These are very popular for school wear.

And the values are really unusual! The materials and workmanship will appeal to careful buyers, and the prices are very low, even for the J. C. Penney Company. Come and see these dresses for yourself!
